SGGS NEWS AND BLOG APP

Abstract:

SGGS NEWS AND BLOG is a web application, which helps SGGS students to know about their campus news. The main aim of this app is connecting students with their college. If anyone post a news/blog then, it can be see by anyone. They can rewrite already posted news/blog. If author is willing to remove it, then only author can delete that.

Our generation is just behind the screens for hours as well as majority of academic work is on internet. In such a situation, using a blog culture in college will get student into research. Writing for a purpose make them more sensitive about different topics of knowledge. It helps to interact with people of same interest and share their ideas and views for improving the quality of content provided. It has more potential for development of communication, understanding skills and building networks.
